Apply to Become an FCI Fellow

Call for applications for FCI's two fellowship programs are now open to Park faculty where the Center will award:

- 3 Teaching Innovation Fellowships (available to all instructors)
- 2 Scholarship Fellowships (available to pre-tenure, full-time faculty)

Teaching Innovation Fellows

The Teaching Innovation Fellows Program allows faculty the time and resources to engage in (and experiment with) innovative teaching practices and contribute to the development of learning across Park University. In this year-long fellowship, the Fellow leads a Special Interest Group (SIG) on a teaching topic of their choosing to support teaching innovation throughout the university. Three Teaching Fellows will be selected in spring 2022 to serve during the 2022-2023 academic year. All interested faculty (full-time, adjunct, distance, etc.) are invited to apply. Learn more HERE. All applications are due by 5pm, CST on January 18th, 2022!

Scholarship Fellows

The Scholarship Fellows program is designed exclusively to support pre-tenure full-time faculty along their journey to tenure. In this year-long fellowship, the Fellow is provided with support, structure, resources, and mentoring to create and submit a scholarly manuscript at the conclusion of the year. Fellows share their progress and experience with the academic community at Park periodically throughout the fellowship year. Two Fellowships are available for pre-tenure full-time faculty who wish to produce a manuscript on their disciplinary research or who wish to produce a manuscript on teaching-related research within their discipline or applicable across disciplines (i.e., the scholarship of teaching and learning). Learn more HERE. All applications are due by 5pm, CST on January 18th, 2022!

So one of the biggest things which hopefully also emanates through the book, too, is what does inclusive teaching look like in the context in which I teach?
