STRATEGIES FOR A SUCCESSFUL FIRST WEEK OF CLASSES

Jennie Carr (Bridgewater College) shares practical strategies and 4 tangible tips to help all instructors begin the new spring semester strong, and to engage our learners in meaningful ways. Be sure to check out her article in the Scholarly Teacher HERE.

HOW TO MULTIPLY YOUR TIME | RORY VADEN | TEDXDOUGLASVILLE

Everything you know about time-management is wrong. In this challenging and counter-intuitive video, Self-Discipline Strategist and New York Times bestselling author of Rory Vaden, shows you why you can't solve today's time-management challenges with yesterday's time-management strategies. More importantly he explains why procrastinating on purpose is the key to being able to multiply your time.

WHAT DO SOTL PRACTITIONERS NEED TO KNOW ABOUT LEARNING?

In this SoTL conference presentation, Hilary Steiner shares an overview of resources, content, and findings to help all instructors enter the domain on the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning and how to gradually build in opportunities to learn and improve our practice without become overwhelmed. Learn more HERE.

HOW TO GET ALONG WITH EVERYONE: SKILLS TO COLLABORATE AND COMMUNICATE AT WORK

We've all been there. A conversation with a colleague takes a sharp turn for the worse. Something you said or the way you said it triggered defensiveness, annoyance, and even anger. What could you have done differently?

Join Crucial Conversations veteran facilitator Steve Childs and Core Strengths principal Dr. Mike Patterson on March 24 at 1pm ET as they uncover skills for more healthy dialogue in the workplace. In this FREE, forty-five minute session, they will discuss how the principles from Crucial Conversations and Core Strengths can help teams collaborate and communicate more effectively.
